Seek To Identify Bodies Of 43 Dead In Plane Crash

Airliner Crash Near Mt. Carmel, Pa., Takes Lives Of All Aboard

EARL CARROLL IS ONE OF VICTIMS

MT. CARMEL, Pa., June 18.—(INS)—A United Airlines physician today faced the grim task of trying to identify the torn and fire-seared bodies of 43 persons killed in the crash of a four-engine "mainliner" on a Pennsylvania mountainside.

Dr. T. R. Tuttle of UAL has only blackened and dismembered arms, legs and torsos to examine and it is expected that identification will be extremely difficult.

All Aboard Killed

Four crew members and thirty nine passengers, including Producer Earl Carroll and statuesque showgirl Beryl Wallace, died in the flaming wreckage of the sleek DC-6 when it plummeted to earth yesterday near Mt. Carmel on the fringe of eastern Pennsylvania's hard coal fields. Two infants died in the crash.

The silvery craft, apparently in difficulty, struck a high tension transformer near a coal colliery and burst into flames before dropping to earth and skidding up the side of Little Mountain.

Open Inquiry

Civil aeronautics inspectors and UAL officials opened an on-the-spot inquiry today among the wreckage blasted over a wide area by an explosion.

Parts of bodies are held in a Centralia undertaker's morgue, a few miles from the spot where the San Diego-New York mainliner crashed.

Throughout the night disaster teams worked under flood lights in the hillside area which was sealed off to the curious by state troopers and National Guardsmen.

None of the bodies of the victims, who included Producer Earl Carroll and several other well-known personages, has yet been definitely identified.

Appeared To "Blow Up"

Few recognizable parts of the plane, with the exception of two big motors, remained. The wreckage, blasted and burned, lay strewn out in small pieces for a distance of 600 yards.

Persons near the scene at the time of the crash said that the

Pa Newc Observes

Mrs. Joseph Colaluca, 128 North Cascade street, reported to Pa Newc that she picked a ripe tomato from her garden on Thursday.

From the great display of blossoms at the present time there is indicated a huge crop of elderberries in Lawrence county this summer.

Apparently a large amount of oiling resurfacing work is being done on the highways of Lawrence county at the present time. Many roads are getting the treatment.

Most of the vacation Bible schools which have been operating for the past two weeks in the city will come to a conclusion today. Commencement programs will be presented either this evening or on Sunday for those schools closing today.

Pa Newc was amazed to see the transformation wrought in the downtown section of the city on Thursday evening as more of the new lights were turned on. Store doorways in many cases which were dark have been brightly lighted. Better illuminated door fronts will lessen the number of breaking and entering cases, at least on the main street.

Talk Of 'Dark Horse' Candidate Is Fading

WASHINGTON, June 18.—Talk of a "dark horse" winning the Republican presidential nomination is fading today as belief grows in Washington that the next GOP standard-bearer will be either Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio or Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York. The two leaders will control close to 700 out of the convention's 1,094 delegates on the second ballot.

May Be Decisive Influence

The belief is growing among GOP chieftains that followers of Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota, the various "favorite sons" and the so-called "dark horses" will refuse to hold out for a deadlock. Instead, the thought is that these delegates will choose the winner between Taft and Dewey.

There are around 400 delegates now pledged to the "field" of Republican possibilities, outside of Taft and Dewey. Of these, Stassen will have around 150 on the second ballot.

It is therefore quite likely that Stassen's followers, if they vote in a bloc, will have a decisive influence.

Await Reaction To Peace Effort For Palestine

By PIERRE J. HUSS
(U. N. S. Staff Correspondent)
LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., June 18.—The United Nations is awaiting today Arab and Jewish reaction to Count Folke Bernadotte's Palestine peace proposals.

The U. N. mediator has confidentially informed the world body that he has laid before both sides far-reaching proposals for a permanent Holy Land settlement.

But he has indicated that he does not want their nature disclosed until progress has been made with both Jews and Arabs in narrowing the area of disagreement.

He is reported to discount strongly Arab public assertions in Cairo that Palestine peace is impossible unless the state of Israel is dissolved.

Bernadotte, in telephone conversations with U. N. Secretary General Trygve Lie, has indicated that no truce breakdown or peace talks stalemate is in sight—although difficulties of all sorts still lie ahead.

Five regular divisions were thrown into action on a 200-mile front in the Grammos mountains area just south of the frontier between Albania and northwestern Greece.

Front-line dispatches said that one unit composed of a thousand guerrilla rebels was put to flight after an eight-hour battle in which Greek Air Force Spitfire planes participated.

One message said that the wooded ravines of the Grammos chain were "littered with dead and wounded."

House-Senate Conferees Now Have Measure

Must Reconcile Sharp Differences In Senate And House Versions

OPPOSITES STILL BATTLE APPROVAL

(BULLETIN)

WASHINGTON, June 18.

—(INS)—The House today passed a drastically modified peacetime draft bill, 283 to 130, and sent the measure to a Senate-House conference.

Attempts will be made by the conferees to reconcile sharp differences between Senate and House versions of the legislation. Both measures call for induction of youths aged 19 through 25.

The House voted to insist on retention of the changes it made in the Senate-approved measure.

Speaker Martin (R) Mass., appointed the following House conferees:

Andrews (R) N. Y.; Short (R) Mo.; Cole (R) N. Y.; Bates (R) Mass.; Vinson (D) Ga.; Brooks (D) La.; and Kilday (D) Tex.

Both right-wing and left-wing opponents of the draft announced they will launch a last-ditch fight against conscription.

But acting Senate Majority Leader Wherry (R) Neb., asserted that the Senate will stay in session all night, if need be, to smash the filibuster threatened by Sen. Taylor (D) Ida. Wherry said:

"If it comes to a filibuster, we must try to break it—and I think we can."

To Oppose Delay

The House GOP leadership also was prepared to oppose delaying tactics threatened by Rep. Marcantonio (AI) N. Y.

Wherry predicted that Congress will finally approve a draft act and adjourn on schedule tomorrow night.

The House-passed bill would induct men aged 19 through 25 for one year of compulsory service, beginning next Jan. 31. The Senate

Annual Homecoming Attracts Many To Moravia Thursday

Thirteen Dinner Features Celebration At Moravia Presbyterian Church Yesterday

Moravia Presbyterian church was the scene Thursday of the annual reunion of the descendants of the settlers of the Moravia and West Pittsburgh areas. Old timers, whose forefathers from the period between 1796 and 1900 settled in the area, were present, with memories of the earlier days of the district being revived.

A bountiful thirteen dinner was served at the noon hour with many present who attended the first reunion in 1931 partaking of the repast. In the afternoon a program of sports was presented for the younger folks with Ruth Brobeck, Helen McKinley and Frank Gibson in charge.

Officers are automatically retained from year to year with Mrs. George McConnell to serve again as president. The reunion will be held again next year on the third Thursday of June with the committee to meet during the years to formulate plans for next year's gathering.

HOUSE-SENATE CONFERS NOW HAVE MEASURE

bill calls for two years of service. The Senate bill authorizes an increase in the strength of the armed forces from 1,400,000 to 1,950,000, the House to 2,000,000.

Number Undetermined

Since the armed forces are directed to press an intensive campaign for voluntary recruits under the House measure, the number of men who will be called up is undetermined.

Before voting its approval of the watered-down conscription act, the House rejected a motion to recommit the bill to the armed services committee, 273 to 125.

The motion was made by Rep. Philbin (D) Mass.

Wherry, forecasting rapid Senate action on the bill, said he thought that "Taylor-Henry Wallace's third-party running mate—would be 'pretty much alone' if he attempts a filibuster."

Administration supporters and chiefs of the armed services are hopeful that the conferees will eliminate what backers of conscription describe as crippling amendments to the legislation.

The habit of taking snuff started in the French court circles about 1800, and in England about 1805.

The term "Lent" means a period of fasting at any time, and not just the period before Easter.

ence on the convention's choice. There have been rumors of a Taft-Stassen ticket but Stassen's headquarters have denied it.

Stassen, meanwhile, has admitted for the first time that he will be third in strength on the opening ballot. He predicts his nomination on the ninth ballot. But most Republican leaders expect a winner will be chosen by the fourth or fifth ballot... and certainly by the sixth.

A sixth ballot nomination would be a compromise. And in this event, it can be expected that Taft and Dewey will get together to name the compromise nominee.

Agree To Confer

It is well known in inner Republican circles that Taft and Dewey have agreed on one item—that if they do deadlock the convention, they will confer in person on a nominee. Both believe they can hold their followers in line to support any agreement they might reach.

The nature of such an agreement will depend wholly on the situation at the time they meet. If Dewey is ahead but lacks the capacity to win without Taft's help, Taft may help him to the nomination. If the situation is reversed, Dewey may help Taft to win.

But is it entirely possible both will agree on a third person. The favorite for such a compromise role would be House Speaker Joseph W. Martin of Massachusetts or Sen. John W. Bricker of Ohio. Martin is reported acceptable to both Taft and Dewey in a deadlock while Bricker is Taft's close friend and Dewey's running-mate in 1944.

sack and a number of boxes which had contained the money from Wednesday's receipts at the store.

Work of Group

The safe, with its contents, would weigh in the neighborhood of 500 pounds, so it is evident that the job was the work of several persons.

The spot where the safe was taken to be rifled at the leisure of the burglars is a rather secluded one at the north end of the Sportsmen's property and is a location which would not be known to a great number of people, so that it is surmised that the burglars were persons who knew the locale quite well.

After discovering the safe, County Detective Charles D. Ross and state police went to the scene in an effort to discover clues which would lead to the identity of the burglars, but the evidence they found, if any, was rather meager, the officers stated.

In 1947, the people in the United States and Canada spent nearly $900,000,000 for their newspapers.

SALLY PFEIFFER'S ENGAGEMENT TOLD

At a club meeting entertained by Miss Shirley Anthony, 508 East Leasure avenue, Thursday evening the engagement of Miss Sally Pfeiffer, daughter of Mrs. Carolyn D. Pfeiffer of 605 Highland avenue, to William Rountree, son of William Rountree, 349 Neshaanock avenue, was revealed.

Two tables of 500 were in play, prizes going to Mrs. Grace McClintock and Mrs. Freda Pickering. Miss Pfeiffer also received a lovely gift.

Refreshments were served at a table decorated with a centerpiece of colorful cut flowers. Each person received a dainty corsage made of one yellow roesbud tied with white satin ribbon and tagged with a scroll of verses written especially for the occasion.

Miss Pfeiffer is employed by the Conn Welding and Machine company and Mr. Rountree is employed by the Baltimore and Ohio railroad. No date has been set for the wedding.

CHURCH SCENE OF MORNING WEDDING

Before an altar embanked with ferns, palms and candelabra, Miss Elizabeth Stevenson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Stevenson of 112 Wilder avenue, became the bride of Joseph Rosta, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Rosta, 1310 1/2 South Jefferson street. The wedding was solemnized Saturday, June 12, at 10 a. m. in the Central Christian church with Rev. J. N. Rainey officiating.

The bride wore a white satin gown, the skirt scalloped and edged in lace from the waist to the train. She wore a long veil edged with lace also, and carried a bouquet of white lilies centered with an orchid.

As matron of honor, Mrs. Mildred Dwyer, sister of the bride, wore an aqua taffeta gown and carried a yellow colonial bouquet. Bridesmaids, Misses June Lewis, Dorothy Gerlock and Pearl Stevenson, wore yellow taffeta gowns and carried mixed colonial bouquets and the Misses Irene Stevenson, Rose Weaver and Joan Reynolds wore blue taffeta gowns and carried mixed colonial bouquets. Rose Marie Smosarski, niece of the groom, was flower girl and Howard Barnes, nephew of the bride, ring bearer.

John Hanna served as best man and the ushers were Joseph Marynak, Paul Marynak, John Smith, Henry Wojtawicz, William Hetrick and Joseph Romonsky.

Miss Eleanor Dicklich sang "Because," "I Love You Truly" and "Always," accompanied at the organ by Mrs. McClintock.

Dinner was served to the immediate families at the home of the bride's parents and at 7:30 there was a reception at St. Margaret's hall in Mahoningtown.

The newlyweds left on a trip to New York City and upon their return will reside at their newly furnished apartment in Beaver Falls.

FATHERS DAY EVENT AT HARBOR CHURCH

Approximately 100 fathers of the Harbor community were honored at a Father's Day dinner served in the church on Thursday evening by the ladies of the Harbor U. P. church.

The event not only honored the fathers but was a special tribute to Rev. Willard Galloway, pastor, who leaves next month for the Sudan in Africa. The congregation through Howard Cox presented Rev. Galloway with a fine watch and a purse of money.

John Wallace showed beautiful slide pictures of Lawrence County revealing the natural beauty that actually exists in the county.

Mrs. D. Galloway of New Wilmington, mother of Rev. Galloway, was a special guest of the occasion. Mrs. Anna Matthews, president of the church missionary society, was chairman of the event.

BRUNTON-ANDREWS WEDDING, THURSDAY

One of the loveliest weddings of the season took place Thursday evening when Miss Mary Lou Brunton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Brunton, 927 Rose avenue, became the bride of William G. Andrews, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Andrews, 123 East Garfield avenue.

The open church wedding was solemnized in a candlelight service at 7:30 in the First Presbyterian church, where before an altar embanked with palms, ferns, two vases of white gladiolas and other white flowers and three candelabras, Dr. Robert F. Galbreath officiated, using the double ring ceremony.

Given by her father in marriage, the bride was lovely, attired in a gown of blush pink silk marquisette, made in a colonial fashion in an off-the-shoulder effect with a marquisette yoke. The gown was princess style, with a very full hoop skirt, and a long train, fashioned in tiers of marquisette ruffles. Her fingertip French illusion veil fell from a semi-bonnet shaped headpiece, and she carried a modern colonial bouquet of gardenias and stephanotis, centered with a large white orchid. She wore the traditional something old, new, borrowed and blue, with a lucky sixpence in her shoe.

As maid of honor Miss Betty Blewitt wore a colonial style gown of pale pink marquisette over a pale green taffeta hoop skirt, with a bustle back. She wore a pale green brimmed halo hat, long pink gloves and carried a colonial bouquet of talisman roses.

The bridesmaids, Miss Ruth Capitola and Miss Ruth Patterson were attired in gowns and head-dresses identical with the maid of honor's. They carried colonial bouquets of yellow tea roses.

Flowers girls were Trudy Hewitt and Carolyn Ann Schneider. The groom had as his attendants, Robert Capitola for best man, and ushers, Charles Andrews, brother of the groom, Charles Brunton, Robert Gifford and Albert Fortuna.

Earl Hammond sang "Always," "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer," accompanied at the organ by Garth Edmundson.

Immediately following the ceremony there was a reception for 250 in the church parlors, where on an attractively appointed table was a five-tier beautifully decorated wedding cake, which had been made by the bride's father. The Misses Helena Stevenson and Catherine Kelly poured and the following acted as aides: Mrs. Richard Davis, Mrs. Clara Good-fellow, Mrs. Gertrude Arrow, Mrs. Betty Fortuna, Miss Josephine Carvella, Miss Vivian Woodworth and Miss Ilona Stevenson.

The newlyweds left from the home of the groom where the immediate families and close friends had gathered. They plan to motor to Virginia Beach and points south. Upon their return they will reside at 123 East Garfield avenue until September when they will go to Iowa City, Ia., where the groom will continue with his studies.

Mrs. Andrews is a graduate of New Castle Senior High school and is employed at the Bell Telephone company. Mr. Andrews was graduated from New Castle Senior high school and is now, after 18 months service in the U. S. Navy, attending the University of Iowa.

REHEARSAL DINNER PLANNED TONIGHT

Rehearsal dinner for the wedding of Miss Betty Robinson and their son, Kenneth Gibson, will be given this evening by Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. Gibson at a tea room on Highland avenue. The wedding party and the immediate families will be guests for six o'clock dinner, with rehearsal in the First Methodist church to follow.

The open church ceremony will take place Saturday evening at 7:30 in the First Methodist church.

In View Of News Of The World

By J. C. Ostreicher, INS Foreign Director

The old saying "it never rains but it pours," which is more of an actuality than a maxim, took on a special meaning for the people of Germany today.

For first he destroyed beautiful Schumann Hall at Heidelberg, built through efforts of the late former U. S. Ambassador Jacob Gould Schumann to enhance the great and romantic 14th-century citadel of learning on the turbulent Neckar River.

Escaped Unscathed

Heidelberg was one of the few well-known cities of Germany that escaped unscathed by aerial bombings during the war.

Adolf Hitler thought of it and its ancient university. Knowing what full-scale air war would mean—he first conceived the idea—he purposely refused to let military installations of any kind be built in and around Heidelberg.

American and British pilots and bombardiers, who never desired to waste valuable bombs and risk their lives needlessly by attacking any military useless target, therefore left this city studiously alone.

It nestled on its river bank site amidst towering evergreens, an oasis of safety from everything except the German Gestapo itself, and when the war ended the pilgrimages to Heidelberg began again by army men and civilian visitors from all over the world.

Cologne Blotted Out

Such was not the case with Cologne. That city made textiles and chemicals for the army. It was blotted out.

Beethoven's Bonn was of immense value to the military. Away it went.

The Frankfurt of Goethe and Rothschild was a communications and administration hub. It was virtually destroyed.

Beautiful Bad Nauheim and Wiesbaden were overladen with barracks and the officers corps of the German air force. They joined the parade of wreckage.

Hitler so integrated all Germany as a war machine that Heidelberg stood out as a bombless paradise. The Fuehrer was said to have liked it particularly because the students persistently flouted government laws and school regulations by holding duelling matches.

The sadistic part of Hitler was said to have been thrilled by his demonstrations and the more scared a student had the better he liked it.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

WHEN DAD IS A GOOD FRIEND

You and I know some wonderful fathers. Musing on them the other night I wrote the following lines:

You know, I have the nicest dad
That any boy ever had.
He reads to me, and on a walk
My dad and I will talk and talk.
On sunny days in bad weather,
We do a lot of things together.
He buys me things to make
I love my daddy.

Wouldn't you?
Such a father enjoys his little son or daughter. They enjoy each other. From these early happy days together the father and child build for happy days together later. You and I know dads who are wonderful companions to their son or daughter when the child is three, twelve, fifteen, thirty. It's the teen-age son who profits most from such companionship. When he and the father do things together, go places together, especially to games, or on a fishing or hunting trip they may gain from each other an abiding comradeship and affection.

How wonderful when the father is his boy's favorite hero, especially when this father is a good model in integrity, ideals and citizenship! See, too, how this father may inspire his son to wish to make the most of himself. And along with him. (My bulletin, if this father goes to church regularly, his son may be glad to go "Father's Are Parents, Too," may be had in a stamped envelope by writing me at 235 East 48th street, New York, N. Y.)

Answer Questions

Returning to the younger child, the good father never considers himself too important to listen to the little child, to enjoy conversation with him, to answer kindly all his questions and always treat him as a sacred personality.

This good father begins to read to the baby as soon as the youngster will look at pictures for a few minutes at a stretch. He also may make up yarns for the little child to enjoy. He keeps on reading to his boy or girl, even after school attendance begins. Later they read to each other right through high school or college. Together they discuss books and the current news and problems of the world.

Home Workshop

This good father enjoys the tot's creations with things and words. Later they develop a home workshop together. To this workshop other children come to make things with them. Always this father, in choosing playthings and tools for his child considers how alone and with other children. When this father plays a game with the young child, he does not "throw" the game more than half the time. He prepares this child to be a good loser as well as a graceful winner. He trains him to abide by the rules of the game. He cultivates good sportsmanship. This good father tries constantly to set the stage so that his child will have abundant wholesome fun with other children of about the same age—at two, at twelve, at sixteen. He attracts other children to the home.

When his children and their friends invite him to join in games he is happy to do so. Indeed, the whole family, sometimes with other children, enjoy all sorts of games together, not to mention family picnics.

Hints On Etiquette

Little children are never dressed in black for a funeral—no matter how it is. White is the best color for them.

From Me To You

By MESEALL

Today is the day thousands have been waiting for... no matter what you drive, be it a bicycle, motor bike, horse and buggy or a high priced motor car... it's the same. All eyes turn to the announcement of a brand new automobile. And today people are seeing a dream come true... the new 1948 Ford... from stem to stern and from tread of the tire to the paint on the roof... the Ford that stands today in the dealers showroom is something different.

It's as different as the Model "T" was in another generation... this is the car Henry Ford the third has produced... this is modern thinking by a young man who has won the respect and admiration of people all over the world. A man handed a business full of tradition and hard work... he knew what to do... he weeded out the chaff that had collected during the "good old days" and planted a strong new abode. New methods of building a motor car have been introduced... for example the old assembly line that was fed by endless tracks of parts has been replaced with trackless trains bearing the parts to the worker and at heights that doesn't necessitate the worker breaking his back reaching for them... just a small item, you say, but a ray of hope in the life of an assembly worker.

Did you know that the Model "K" Ford... built in 1907 was a six cylinder job... touring car they called it and the cost was $2,800... and to see these car advertisements appeared which read like this:

In addition to Henry Ford's originality of design there is more actual value of material and workmanship in Ford Model "F" than in any other automobile ever built at the price.

It seats five people, climbs hills on high speed, has a roomy side entrance tonneau, is light, strong and rides like a yacht. Has the latitude of speed on the high gear of a $5000 car.

Little Man, What Now?

Washington Calling

(By Marquis Childs)

Vandenberg And Presidency

WASHINGTON, June 18.—The massive achievement of Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg in the 80th congress is likely to loom even larger with the passage of time. With his able staff on the foreign relations committee, he has led his party, sometimes balky and surly, from one historic milestone to another.

On the record he deserves the highest honor the GOP can offer. But as Vandenberg has often pointed out, that honor has never gone to the man who waits to be drafted. While he has consistently been the first choice of millions of voters in the event of a deadlock at Philadelphia, he has just as consistently refused to help in any way to gain the nomination.

Ardent admirers and friends have pleaded with him, in vain, to be allowed to take the steps necessary to crystallize the vast latent support in the party and in the country.

May Pass Him By

Unless such steps are taken, with floor managers ready to seize the strategic opportunity, Vandenberg's admirers fear the convention may pass him by. Enthusiastic friends are working, but without co-ordination.

Two factors are back of Vandenberg's reluctance. One is a kind of pride that restrains him from seeking the office and being repaid with a rebuff.

The other, and far more important reason, is his genuine hesitation before the crushing burden of the presidency. This has little to do with his health, which he and his doctors believe to be good. Nevertheless he is 64 years old. Moving into the White House, he would break the rhythm of his senate life, and he cherishes that rhythm.

His president, he would be faced with complicated administrative decisions. He would be taking on duties alien and strange because of his long concentration on foreign affairs.

Suggest Vice Presidency

This is why some who want Vandenberg have suggested the possibility of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey accepting the vice-presidential nomination. As vice president, Dewey would take broad administrative responsibility. There seems little likelihood of this outcome at Philadelphia, however.

Still another element is involved in Vandenberg's hesitation. It is his fear of how far the narrow obstructionists in his own party would go in thwarting him if he were in the White House.

They will be back in January—the Tabern, the Martins, the Hallecks—with the expected Republican sweep, and their power will be greater than ever.

They are jealous of Vandenberg's deep respect of his prestige and influence. Certain of his fellow Republicans in the senate already have gone beyond common decency in spreading vicious slanders.

ders about the man who towers so far above them.

Grim Forecasts

This is a grim forecast of what these same petty, jealous minds might do. A Republican president might be almost as much a prisoner of congress as the Democrat who has been skirmishing with Capitol Hill for two years.

Even though he has done nothing to gain the nomination, the convention may turn to Vandenberg. He has the support of such forward-looking Republicans as Governor Duff of Pennsylvania and Governor Driscoll of New Jersey, who know the fatal consequences of a retreat to Harding.

Ever since the end of war, both at home and abroad, Vandenberg has spoken for stability and peace through the United Nations. Again and again, he has been the voice of leadership.

Skeptics point to the newness of his conversion from old-fashioned isolationism. But millions understand the same conversion in the ordeal of a global war. That may be why today they have such a fellow feeling for a leader with the courage and the ability to strike out in a new direction.

One Man's Opinion

By Walter Kiernan

PHILADELPHIA. Three women delegates are here wearing the old look. So are the candidates. The old hungry look.

And some members of the American Society of Magicians have dropped over from Atlantic City. They want to see the convention make eight candidates disappear.

So far there are no volunteers for the vice presidency. Not even Wallace or Truman want it this year and they've had it.

Rumors that Mr. Truman might withdraw as a candidate are not believed in Philadelphia. The feeling is that no man ever hung up the phone on a contest offering $75,000 a year and free use of a house, yacht, plane, and combined networks.

As one delegate put it: "Offered a choice between something and nothing an average man up hesitatingly accepts something."

Just Folks

By EDGAR A. GUEST

TWO TOASTS
Father to Son
To you whose lot it is to wear
The name my father passed to me,
God grant the strength to care
And faith for all that has to be.
Be kind; be fair; Oh, son of mine!
Be helpful whenever you can
And you'll come close to God's design.

Through every test that proves the man.
Be honest, whatever the cost.
Your debts unto the penny meet.
T'were better than the game be lost.
Than you should leave the field a cheat.
Wholeheartedly perform your tasks.
Unto our starry flag be true.
Son, this is all your father asks,
And all your Country asks of you.

Son to Father
Not with words would I repay
All your love has long supplied
I would live so you will say
That you look on me with pride.
Always this my thought will be,
Though I win or lose the game,
That the name you gave to me
Never shall be linked to shame.

I who follow in your line,
To your teachings true would stay.
May no careless act of mine
Your high hopes for me betray.
Faithful to the flag above,
Faithful unto God and you,
Always to deserve your love,
I would live my lifetime through.

Whose Billion Dollar Baby?

(By Holmes Alexander)

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 18.—Their eyes aflame with mother love, both major parties are now in the court of public opinion, suing for custody of a popular infant—the Marshall Plan—which all of a sudden has become an important political prize.

King Solomon, who once had to decide between two irate claimants for the possession of a child, was probably the first philosopher to recognize that mother love is compounded of two dissimilar instincts—possessiveness and affection. In the present instance it seems likely that the will to possess the political assets of the Marshall Plan is stronger than the will to love and support it. This infant, so long as it was considered a national emergency measure, was a public charge which neither Democrats nor Republicans wanted sole credit for. But ever since the late Congressman Taber threatened to do the baby fiscal harm and thereby raised a popular outcry, spokesmen of both parties have been opening loving arms to receive it as their own.

Marshall Not Mentioned

I take, as case in point, the testimony of Sen. Vandenberg last week before the Senate Appropriations Committee. Big Van came in with a prepared statement of 1270 words on the Marshall Plan, but not one of the words was "Marshall". He then answered many questions from fellow Senators and referred several times to Paul G. Hoffman, the plan's administrator, but not once to George C. Marshall, the plan's original sponsor. In the wink of a cynic's eye it became apparent that this was naked partisan politics. For Hoffman, as everybody knows, is Vandenberg's man and Marshall, a Cabinet officer, is Mr. Truman's.

Just to prove, to change the manner of speaking for a moment, that Vandenberg wasn't the only Republican candidate who could discuss "Hamlet" without mentioning the Prince of Denmark, Harold Stassen came before the same committee the next day and repeated the Michigan Senator's performance. Harold brought in a prepared statement of 493 words, not one word of which was "Marshall". He then answered the committee's questions for about 20 minutes, and never once employed the name of Mr. Truman's Secretary of State.

Harold took pains to point out, for the campaign record, that what he loved so dearly was the European Recovery Program as amended and enacted by the Republican Congress, not the ERP which had sprung full-blown from the brain of the Truman Administration. He was going strong when Democratic Senator Tydings, the Maryland needlerman and candidate for vice president, asked him if—and if not, why not—he was endorsing the Republican amendment as embodied in Taber's proposed slash of two billion dollars.

Lacks Battle Lustre

His maternity motives thus impugned, Stassen fell back on a sing-song lullaby about the high purpose of GOP policy, but Tydings kept poking at him. Their set-to, however, lacked the luster of last year's battle when these two quick-witted antagonists fought it out last week looked thin and pale, being not long from the hospital. And Stassen, a somewhat de-glamorized giant killer, was heavy in the jaws and positively paunchy under his tightly buttoned coat, after months of friend chicken and ice cream on the campaign banquet circuit.

The tussle for parental custody of the Marshall Plan is also evidenced by the list of appointments now coming from the Hoffman office. The last 11 of these to reach my desk indicates clearly that Hoffman aides are purposefully being chosen from almost everywhere except from Gen. Marshall's State Department, the bureau where ERP was born and reared. Of the aforementioned 11, 5 men are from private business, one was lifted from a Washington newspaper, 3 are from the Commerce Department and 2 are from the Agriculture Department. This system I take to be right and proper, but it adds to the proof that Republicans intend to separate ERP as far as possible from the Truman-Marshall cradle of its birth.

But the Democrats are not submitting tamely to this kidnap effort. ERP was their billion-dollar baby in the first place, and they mean to wall for it on the hustings between now and the November doomsday.

Meanwhile the public, once so happy to have a bipartisan foreign policy, now finds itself, like Solomon, willing to chop the baby in two parts to stop the screaming of the claimant mothers.

JOBS UPON A TIME

The World and the Mud Puddles

The 1948 Pulitzer best play of the year award winner, Tennessee Williams' author of A Streetcar Named Desire, really scratched for a living before success came. He was once a waiter, then a feather picker on a California squab ranch. Winning a $1,000 award for a play, "Battle of Angels, Tennessee went to New York. His play, however, was a failure. Williams wrote his first successful play, The Glass Menagerie, in Hollywood. Tennessee, whose real name is Thomas Lanier Williams, wrote Streetcar in Mexico.

John Nance Garner, former vice president of the United States was born three years after the Civil War ended. Though he did not have much formal schooling, he became a county judge and Texas representative for two years before he was elected to the United States House of Representatives in 1904. Garner was in Congress 20 years, with a term as speaker of the House, when he was chosen President Roosevelt's first running mate in 1932, and re-elected on the second-term ticket. After that Garner retired to his farm in Uvalde, Tex., where he says he is going to live until he's 93.

They Say

WASHINGTON — Rep. Vito Marcantonio (ALP, N. Y.) "I will use all blocking tactics in an attempt to block the House passage of the draft bill."

ROME—Alcide De Gasperi, Italian Premier. "Leftists should open their eye to reality and the benefits of the Marshall Plan. If we fail democracy will be dead forever in Italy."

BERLIN—Col. Frank L. Howley, American military commander. "Any joker who thinks the United States, France and Britain are going to be dealt out of Berlin has another guess coming."

KANSAS CITY—President Truman. "In order to get peace now we must keep the foreign policy out of the political scramble which will take place in this presidential."

One of these days the clever scientists may discover a method of distilling penicillin cheaply in barrel lots from that fine old-fashioned but effective spring tonic—phur and molasses.—Decatur, Ill., Herald.

Bridge

BY E. T. WHEATON

THIS IS A STATUE OF GLADY'S CLAIM, THE WOMAN WHO NEVER TALKED DURING A BRIDGE GAME EXCEPT TO BID OR PASS. IT WAS ERECTED BY PUBLIC SUBSCRIPTION AND PRESENTED TO THE CITY. MANY CITIZENS MAINTAINED THAT THE SCULPTOR SHOULD HAVE EQUIPPED HER WITH WINGS.

A PAUSE FOR POLITICS

A foreign visitor in Washington, who wanted to discuss financing of an important international project, found that capital city "dead on its feet." That's the way it seemed to him. In reality Washington has shifted interest from the government to competitive politics. America is in the grip of the quadrennial strife for position and authority.

In this situation President Truman wins up a national tour to bolster his prospects for nomination and election. It was noted that he was happier upon his departure from Washington than he ordinarily is tied down to the White House grind. A political fray is a heady thing, stimulating to all participants.

So America governmentally comes to a pause while the politicians thresh out before the people the matter of which party is to represent them. It is a waste of time only to those who have no sympathy for the republican system. The dictators do it more speedily by giving voters a ballot to mark as is—or else.

LARGER WHEAT CROP

Department of Agriculture has jumped Kansas wheat estimates to 160,000,000 bushels. Several weeks ago private estimates were as low as 125,000,000 bushels. An old wheat country saying is that it is impossible to estimate a wheat crop until the grain is in the bin.

The Kansas crop was seeded in dry soil, a terrific handicap. It went through an icy winter unfavorable to growth. Spring showers were skimpy. Despite these handicaps, experts now predict a harvest only slightly below the 10-year average.

There is something miraculous about the wheat plant growth. It does better on a scarcity than an overplurage of moisture. Give it a little rain after it is in the ground, some snow in winter if it is winter wheat, and three or four showers during the growing season, and a crop eventuates which wheat heads are better and the grain is of higher quality if sub-humid conditions hold plant growth back.

Wheat, as it has been improved through long experimentation and adaptation, is a crop for the North American prairies just as it is for the steppes of Russia and the pampas of the Argentine.

"SELLING" UN

The United Nations Advisory Committee of Information Experts is guilty of no over-statement when it says that "public skepticism" has arisen concerning the organization's value. Evidence on this point is to be found in talks on the streets, in speeches in Congress, and in declarations by UN delegates themselves.

The skepticism—some would call it cynicism—is a perfectly natural phenomenon. It is natural because people make a habit of remembering failures, and UN certainly has had its share of those.

The remedy, according to the committee, lies in giving the public a better understanding of UN's constructive economic, social and humanitarian work, as distinguished from its political activities. The committee feels also that good results would flow from a clarification in people's minds of the functions of the organization as well as of the restrictions under which it has to labor.

What is recommended, in short, is an old-fashioned publicity job—a job of "selling" the United Nations to the people. This may not be easy, in view of the nature of the commodity.

QUICK AND THE DEAD

An ancient joke, revived from the era when rutted, dusty roads were commoner than gasoline fumes, was used the other day to describe New York City's automobile traffic. Donald McCullough of London, an international highway safety expert, divided metropolitan pedestrians into two classes—"the quick and the dead."

New York, he said, is "the world's worst city for traffic," barring Hong Kong. Its people are "nimble folk who owe their existence to agility."

"New York is rapidly nearing the point where it is a question of motor travel or human beings. Nowadays it is really an alarming adventure to cross one of the main thoroughfares."

No one will question that McCullough is right. America, with about a sixteenth of the world's population, owns more than half its cars. New York is America's most populous city.

Everywhere there is plenty of traffic congestion, and it is growing worse. All Americans are learning that it pays to be "nimble folk."

We hear that the baby-sitters of America are planning to form a national organization. No doubt a cribbage society.

Scientists say there are eight basic kinds of human noses. We know the kind the Washington bureaucrats have. It is the one that goes into everyone else's business.

It would be interesting to see the results of a Gallup Poll taken among the British soldiers retiring from Palestine as to how many of them will be glad to get home.

BIBLE THOUGHT

For God sent not His Son into the world to condemn the world; but that the world through Him might be saved. He that believeth on Him is not condemned; but he that believeth not is condemned already, because he hath not believed in the name of the only begotten Son of God. John 17, 18.

Rabbi H. Krash Gets New Charge

Leader Of Tifereth Israel Synagogue For Four Years Leaves For Madison, Wis.

Rabbi Hyman Krash, spiritual leader of Tifereth Israel synagogue for the past four years, has accepted a position as spiritual leader of a congregation at Madison, Wis., since April.

Mrs. Hyman Krash and daughter, Hadasah Krash, and son, Esomore Krash, of Falls street, this city, will depart for Madison in several weeks, and where they plan to make their home by the first of next month.

Miss Krash is a junior at the University of Pittsburgh and plans to continue her studies at the University in Madison. Esomore, a senior at the New Castle Senior high school, will also complete his studies in Madison, Wis.

Another son, Abraham Krash, who is a student at the University of Chicago, plans to study for another year before leaving for Madison.

Rabbi and Mrs. Krash have become well-known during their four-year stay here, and were very active in religious and civic affairs, having a large circle of friends. Rabbi Krash is third vice president of the tri-state Mizrahi organization; a member of the Zionist and B'nai B'rith organizations here, in addition to others. Prior to their charge here, they were residents of Cheyenne, Wyo., where the Rabbi was also spiritual leader there. They accepted the post in New Castle here four years ago, enabling Mrs. Krash being near to her hometown, in Pittsburgh, Pa., where her parents, brothers and sisters are still residents. It is with regret that they leave their many friends, as they again leave for the West.

Get Certificates At Penn State

STATE COLLEGE, June 13.—More than 150 clergymen will receive certificates today as the tenth annual conference for town and country pastors closes at the Pennsylvania State college.

Included in this list are E. Chesler and Mrs. Crabb of the Bessemer Presbyterian church, Bessemer.

West Side Has Annual Pet Show

Hordes of dogs swooped down on the West Side playground Wednesday afternoon, but no one was in the least alarmed, for attached to each dog was a struggling little boy or girl. The annual pet show was held at West Side playground with a large display of pets.

With no little trouble, Jean Raeburn, playground director, got the youngsters and their pets arranged in a sort of line, and they paraded past the many parents and other visitors who had come to watch this event.

First prize went to Mary Alice Rishel's brown and white bulldog, "Babe".

Second prize was awarded to Delphine Minter who had a beautiful white Persian cat.

Third prize was won by Mary

Ann Sheridan who displayed her little white and brown spaniel. Judges for the event were Mrs. Calabrese, Mrs. McCracken and Patsy Raeburn.

Wagner Plans To State Position

Will Make Political Intentions Clear Around Middle Of August

OTHER NEWS OF
STATE AFFAIRS

HARRISBURG, June 18.—(INS)—Auditor General G. Harold Wagner told his 400-odd employees during his department's annual dinner at Harrisburg that he would make clear his political intentions during the presidential election year around the middle of August. In the meantime, he let it be known, their support of certain democratic legislative candidates was desirable. He mentioned by name only senators in his favor. They included Sens. John H. Dent, Westmoreland, Senate minority leader, Jerome H. Jansan, Israel Stiefel and Anthony J. Dislivestro, all Philadelphia, members of the House appropriations committee and others of the Senate counterpart had his blessing for securing a $2,020,000 appropriation for his department. It was into the "thank you" address that he inserted his plugs for the Senators seeking re-election. His subordinates had been under a "no politics" ban since Wagner broke with the Democratic organization in March over the selection of fiscal officers.

Wagner openly opposed Patrick J. Toole, of Plains, nominated on the Democratic ticket for State Senate from the 21st District. The seat now belongs to Sen. Peter M. Margie (D) Luzerne, who declined to seek re-election. The district embraces Wagner's home territory. He lives at Penn Lake. Toole is opposed by Edward J. Doblex, Plains investigator and sole candidate for the nomination on the GOP ticket. Wagner's opposition was the first hint of his interest in the local legislative campaign. No mention, by name, was made of Sen. William J. Lane, of West Brownsville, chosen over Wagner's administrative assistant, Frank Boylan, of Carbondale, for the Democratic candidate as state treasurer.

Mountain laurel, the State's official flower, now is in bloom throughout Pennsylvania, according to the state commerce department, the commonwealth's promotion manager. Special laurel festivals will be held in the Pocono Mountain region and other eastern areas in honor of the flower selected because it "blooms so universally in all the mountainous sections of Pennsylvania," the department said. The annual state laurel blossom festival will be conducted at Wellsboro June 18. The delicate pink and white blossoms prevail in the vicinity of Eagles Mere, around Waynesboro and in state forests of north-central counties.

Department chiefs have been hounding the budget bureau recently for approval of supplementary allocations to complete various projects stymied by rising costs. Additional funds have come through in scattered amounts and only, according to reports on Capitol Hill, after long verbal tussles with budget secretary Edward B. Logan. He has been described as "guarding the budget like a lion" in view of increasing signs that numerous deficiencies will arise before the end of the 1947-48 biennium. One will be in the relief program, another in the $82,000,000 mental hospital construction program. Highway funds will run out before an ambitious road building program is completed.

Apple Production Short Of Output For Last Year

About 10 Per Cent Short In 1948
Over Last Year, Apple States
Report

HARRISBURG, June 18.—(INS)—The nation's apple production in 1948 was expected today to fall more than 10 per cent short of the 1947 output.

Growers from 35 leading apple producing states estimated during the National Apple Institute at Harrisburg that the 1948 crop will total 101,156,000 bushels, 11,347,000 less than last year.

Only five states expect to equal or exceed the 1947 output. They are Vermont, Virginia, West Virginia, North Carolina and Montana.

Washington growers, the nation's principal apple producers, said the state's crop probably will total 27,500,000 bushels, compared with 33,480,000 last year. Growers blamed poor weather conditions for a 6,000,000 bushel decline in the Delicious variety in the state.

Babson Gives Ideas
On Getting A JobBy ROGER W. BABSON
(Copyright, 1948, Publishers Financial Bureau, Inc.)BABSON PARK, Mass., June 18.
—At this time of year thousands of young people leave school to look for jobs. Many are through with school. They want work by which they can make a living. Others are looking for summer jobs. They want to use their vacations profitably. Some of you young people have written asking for job-hunting tips. To so many young people when asked what they can do, reply "Anything". This is a sure way of not getting a job. Well, here is some good advice from me: Collect a few facts about a company before you go for an interview. Know something about its product. Know why you want to work for this particular company. Be able to give enthusiastic reasons for wanting the job and to state definitely your own qualifications.

Tell the employment manager what work experiences you have had. Convey to him the kind of person you are. Give him the impression that you would be a good producer for his company because of your interests, abilities, experience and personality. Don't tell him you need a job. Talk of his troubles, not yours.

Start At the Bottom and Learn
The Babson Institute has contacts with hundreds of employers across the country. I have made a trip through the mid-west where I talked with employment managers, sales managers, presidents and directors of corporations. They report that, more than anything else, young people are in too much of a hurry. Remember you are worthless to an employer until you learn something about a company and its problems.

My father used to say, "It takes two years to make a two-year-old helper." He was right. You can't sell until you know your product. There is no place like the stockroom to learn this fundamental. If you really want to go places on a job, be willing to start at the bottom and do your job well. Don't be afraid of getting your hands dirty.

One middle western employer is currently telling a story about a wealthy young socialite. This young man could have stepped into a lucrative family business. Instead he went to another manufacturer and said, "I am absolutely worthless to you but there is nothing I want more than to learn your business. The only way I can learn is to go into the shop and roll up my sleeves and go to work. I want this opportunity to start at the bottom and get a good background." The employer was so impressed with this young man's sincerity and foresight that he hired him on the spot.

Business Wants Producers
One thing employers will find out about you is whether or not you are a good producer. This will be determined by school records, part-time work experiences, confidential recommendations, and so forth. You would be surprised how easy it is for an experienced interviewer to size up a fellow who wants a job "goldbricking". Time and again, I have heard businessmen say, "The young person who hasn't learned how to produce isn't worth a plugged nickel to me".

America is what she is today because of the blood and sweat of our forefathers. Only your willingness and ability to produce to capacity will keep her great. Hence, such traits as responsibility, persistence, courage and enthusiasm, will go a long way to help you act and get things done. Adaptability and flexibility, the power to think and reason clearly, are also traits much sought by employers.

Importance of Character
But above everything, the most important qualification is character. It seems to me that without question there is nothing more important in an employee than a strong character. The man of character is the man who gives an honest day's production, and then some, for his day's wages. He is the man who gets ahead. There will always be opportunity for well-trained, serious-minded young people of character.

Over $620,000 Of City Taxes For 1948
Already Paid In
City Controller William A. Moore today announced that the 1948 city tax collection already amounts to $620,129.97, or approximately 79.9 per cent of a city tax duplicate of $774,821.20. The collection was made by City Treasurer Bernard N. Hanlon. The collection exceeded by $100,000 the collection paid up to May 1, 1947.

In paying the $620,129.97, taxpayers, practically all property owners, saved $12,845.83. The taxes, less a 2 per cent discount, paid by ward during the month of April were as follows:
First ..... $ 57,850.23
Second ..... 179,371.04
Third ..... 34,702.58
Fourth ..... 62,200.48
Fifth ..... 19,549.84
Sixth ..... 21,367.93
Seventh ..... 21,949.91
Eighth ..... 68,665.29

This shows a total collection of $464,687.30. The difference between this amount and $620,129.97 was paid for all months of 1948, up to June.

The money has been divided as follows:

General revenue purposes $410,476.88; for sinking fund purposes $38,722.39, and library purposes, $15,488.03.

Truman Makes New Record For Having Vetoes Overridden

WASHINGTON, June 18.—(INS)—Senate statistics showed that President Truman is the first chief executive since Andrew Johnson to have vetoes overridden by congress three times in one week.

Moreover, Mr. Truman is the first president since Johnson to have five vetoes overridden during a single session of congress. Johnson is the "most vetoed" president. He rejected 21 bills by "regular veto" and was overridden 15 times.

Second on the list is Franklin D. Roosevelt, whose "regular" vetoes totaled 371, and who was overridden nine times.

Mr. Truman is tied for third with Woodrow Wilson. The late President Wilson vetoed 33 bills and was overridden six times.

When congress enacted the Reed-Bulwinkle bill to law over Mr. Truman's veto, it was the sixth time a measure was passed without his signature. Mr. Truman has vetoed 137 bills.

YOU CAN ENJOY NATURE WITH YOUR CHILDREN

Experiencing nature with children is one of the thrilling things in life that every parent should have. Children and parents will grow closer, and the memory of these happy times together will last an age and help to bridge over rough spots that may appear along the road of life. People who live in the country or in a small town have this rich beauty near at hand.

Even though you may not know the names of flowers you can observe many things about them. First apparent will probably be their different colors and sizes. Next you may notice the various shapes, number of petals, and as you look closer you will see the little hair-like cluster in the center of each flower. You may even see that one hair is different from the others. Then if you turn the flower over you will see the little leaf-like parts that hold the blossom before it bursts into bloom. Next you may notice the leaves. By this time you probably have become so interested you would like to know the name of some of the flowers you often see. Inexpensive and easy to use flower and tree guides are available.

A good game to play, that will be fun once you have begun to notice characteristics of a number of flowers, is to separate flowers from their leaves, scramble them all up and then try to get the correct leaves to go with each flower. This game requires picking the flowers to use those that are plentiful.

A word of caution should be said here about the necessity of protecting scarce flowers. They can be best enjoyed as they grow in their natural environment. Teach children this and practice it yourself. Flowers that grow in the woods are most easily destroyed as they are not as hardy as those that grow along the roadside and in the open field.

GIRL BREAKS ARM AT CITY PLAYGROUND

Betty Campbell, aged 10 years, of R. D. 3, suffered a fracture of the right arm on Friday, when she fell from a seesaw at the Washington playground.

She was taken to the Jameson Memorial hospital, where her injuries were treated.

First steamboat on the Mississippi appeared in 1811.

Question: At a Christening, (1) Who holds the baby during the ceremony? (2) Is it customary to give gifts to the God-parents from the parents? (3) Is the clergyman given a fee and how much?

Answer: (1) The Godmother, usually. (2) No. The Godparents give the baby a gift. (3) Yes, always. Usually from $5.00 upward.

Present your problems to Miss Markel who will promptly send personal replies to questions from readers inclosing stamped, addressed envelopes.

Question: I became engaged last June. My father died last September after an extended illness. How soon would it be appropriate for me to be married—that is, to have a large, formal wedding with four attendants?

Answer: No one could criticize you if you let one year elapse between the time of his death and the date of your formal wedding. A bride who plans to be married quietly, even dressing in traditional bridal attire, may do so immediately after a death in her family. Any display of gaiety soon after the death of a parent is not in good taste.

GIVING COUNTRY CLUB DANCE

"My niece has been visiting me. Before she leaves, I should like to give a dance for her. Can you give me some suggestions for going about this affair which I plan to hold in a country club?"

Answer: Go to the manager of the club in which you will hold the dance, reserve a ballroom, tell him the number of guests you will invite and what refreshments you wish to have served. Hire an orchestra, either through him or whatever other source you prefer. If you wish any kind of decorations, tell the manager and he will see that your request is carried out. If your dance will be informal, you may call your guests on the telephone and invite them, write informal notes to them or send out your visiting cards, thus: In ink above your name, place the date on which the dance will take place and under or next to it, add the words: "Dancing at — o'clock." At the bottom of the card on the right-hand side, place the name of the club.

You and your niece should receive the guests as they arrive, your niece standing in line for a reasonable time, after which she may dance. You will, no doubt, be forced to stand in line the greater part of the evening, since guests will come and go continually.

A bowl of punch should be kept in the ballroom or near it for thirsty dancers. If you serve supper, you should hire another room for that purpose.

Question: At what age should a small boy be trained to remove his hat indoors?

Answer: As soon as he has graduated from the baby-cap stage. In other words, he should be taught this form of courtesy as soon as he begins wearing any kind of hat that is easily removed. And he should be taught to remove his hat upon entering his own house, as well as entering others.

Present your problems to Miss Markel who will promptly send personal replies to questions from readers inclosing stamped, addressed envelopes.

The tip of the finger was almost severed. The accident occurred Friday morning.

Seek To Revive Shenango River Boating

In the accompanying photo, Larry Langdon is shown fishing from the dock; in the boat are: David Wimer, Clair Robinson, Mrs. Merle Langdon, mother of Larry, and L. E. Robinson.

In an effort to revive boating on the Shenango river, members of the Lawrence County Sportsman's association have placed a dock in the river, on the north embankment, downstream from Harbor bridge, along the Sportsman's farm. The dock is approximately 15 feet long, 7 feet wide, and is made of heavy timber.

There are several saddle tanks attached to the dock.

The dock was built by "Chuck" Robinson and Henry Hamilton of Robinson's garage, Butler avenue.

Messrs Robinson and Hamilton used one of their trailers to transport the dock to the Shenango river.

The dock may be used by all who wish to use it, the only request by the Lawrence County Sportsman's association being that the users give proper care to the dock.

Already persons who own boats have taken them to the Shenango river. Some are outfitted with outboard motors, and the new dock is much appreciated by boatmen.

Around Hollywood

By RUTH BRIGHAM
(International News Service Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD, June 18.—(INS)—The love life of half of movie stardom is in the hands of a lady named Juel.

She doesn't brew magic potions. Juel Park sews a fine seam. Adrian and Irene may dress the glamorous stars, but Juel is content to undress 'em. Her forte is lingerie.

Movie stars have beaten a path to her Beverly Hills door for the past 19 years, and she watched some famous shapes remain the same while others became shapeless.

Kind And Honest
But Juel's a kind and honest soul, and when some shape of another day come in and wonders how to make those curves look like they're curving again, Juel says diplomatically:

"When the figure becomes—shall we say, comfortable?—Why not face it? I'm no plastic surgeon, but I can do wonders with lace and ribbons."

And she can. At wonderful prices. She whips up the most delectable little concoctions for a hundred dollars or so. But they're real silk—and last for years!

Yes, fans, Hollywood trails chiffons and laces to bed—just like in the movies.

And Juel has a good word for those girls whose figures you admire on the screen—and wonder if they really are?

She said today: "Honest, few of them ever wear girdles. They don't have to. The girls have got shapes."

Cites Joan Bennett
Joan Bennett is one of Juel's favorite customers. Because, as she put it: "Joan is so perfectly beautiful. She's the Dresden doll type."

Miss Bennett first went to Juel about 10 years ago—when she was a "shy little thing" of 18. She was recently in the shop buying exquisite white maternity satins for herself—and trousseau for her own 18-year-old, Diana, who will be married in May.

Another Joan that rates a first on Juel's list is Joan Crawford. Juel just loves to design for the actress, whose figure she calls "one of the most perfect I've ever seen."

Juel detests ordinary pinks and tea roses in lingerie. She goes in for ravishing colors. Rich, intoxicating champagne satins and St. James rose for auburn-haired Jo Stafford. Lustrous chocolate browns that she embellishes with cream lace for Van Johnson's Evie. Delicious blue satins for Lana Turner.

Tough guy Alan Ladd is a usual customer. He sneaks in and looks warily about before confiding to Juel: "I want something pretty for Susie. Something that will tell her I love her. Something with red roses on it."

The result once was a cream satin night gown and robe, with red chiffon roses appliqued upon it, and dainty "I Love You" embroidered in matching red. Susie is Alan's wife, Sue Carol.

Jule helped Shirley Temple through the transition from girl to woman via satins and silks. She said, "Shirley is so practical, her mother and I had a hard time convincing her that she could afford a white satin trousseau set with antique rosepoint lace."

she didn't know the couple was separated.

When the wife came in to order a lingerie set, Juel complied with the custom made order. But, before delivery, she enthusiastically added a double heart in embroidery, with the monogram of both entwined in the hearts.

She gift-wrapped it, sent the husband the bill as she always had before, and the wife the package. Then the actor went by to see their child, his wife kissed him and thanked him for the gift.

The couple is still married today.

Highway Heads Plan Sharon-Youngstown New Highway Link

SHARON, June 17.—Heads of the Pennsylvania and Ohio departments, along with city and county leaders of Mercer County, met Tuesday at Sharon for talks on a proposed westward extension of Route 62, making it a by-pass through the city of Sharon.

A new route was laid out by the men to replace the twisting five mile stretch of highway between Sharon and Hubbard, with industrial leaders attending the meeting pledging every assistance to the road planners. The new route, it is hoped, will cover the old street car right of way between Youngstown and Sharon.

FAMILY HABIT

NEWTON, Mass.—At the same district court session, $5 fines for overnight parking were paid by Mrs. Evelyn Fitzgerald; Richard, her son, and Eleanor, her daughter.

TAKING WAYS
FORT WAYNE, Ind.—Claude A. Helms was brought into the police station because his ex-landlord said he had stolen a vacuum sweeper when he moved. Officer Milton Barton thought Helms had a familiar look—he was wearing a gray coat that had been stolen from Barton in a restaurant.

It has been estimated that the main underground water level in the United States has been lowered 10 to 40 feet by cutting forests and cultivation of the land.

THREE STRIKES

When a batter has three strikes he is usually out.

There are three diseases which put a good many people out. Diabetes, cancer and obesity are bad actors. They cause a lot of trouble.

Obesity may be prevented. A person is too fat because he eats more than he needs. If the diet is properly regulated the obesity will be gone.

Cancer is not so easily handled. If cancer is found early it may be cured.

Diabetes is a life long disease. A person who has it may live a long and comfortable life. A diabetic usually needs medical care all his life. He may live as long as other people.

MANGLED MAIL

FORT LUPTON, Colo.—(INS)—Unforeseen complications are turning up as a result of the increasing numbers of speedy trains, operated by the nation's railroads. At "flagstops" like Fort Lupton, it is a custom of long standing for baggage men to toss mail sacks as the train passes. The practice is getting dangerous. In at least two recent instances, mail bags tossed from speeding trains have been drawn under the wheels by the suction—and mail destined for Fort Lupton has been picked up in mangled pieces.

Once upon a time the agate was believed to be a good antidote for poisons if worn on the person.

THE GRASS LOOKS GREENER
GRIDLEY, Ill.—(INS)—Gridley policeman Lee Andrews was mightily embarrassed recently because of eight wandering chin-chilla rabbits. Ralph Cornell, owner of the rabbits and neighbor of Andrews, told the policeman that the bunnies had disappeared. The two men went on an extensive search for the animals and finally discovered them in Andrews' yard. The rabbit, seeking a change in shelter, had hopped across the alley from their home to Cornell's backyard and had established new residence in Andrews' rabbit pen.

*Why is thrift more important now
than ever?*

Money deposited now while prices are high will buy considerably more for you in the future if prices drop. In addition, every dollar you bank now is a dollar that won't be spent for today's scarce goods. Therefore, practicing "thrift" also helps fight the high cost of living. You have everything to gain by opening an account and making deposits regularly. Build your reserve fund here.

St. Vitus First Communion Sunday

Largest Group Of 132 Ready For Great Occasion In Their Lives At 7 O'Clock Mass

Children of St. Vitus church parish, numbering 132, will receive their first Holy Communion Sunday morning, June 20, at the 7 o'clock mass. Rev. Fr. Nicholas DeMita, pastor will be celebrant. Baptismal vows will be renewed by the group, which includes 68 boys and 64 girls.

At the present time the group is on a three-day retreat at St. Vitus, under the supervision of Father DeMita. They have been instructed in their catechism by the Sisters of the Order of Zela-trices of Sacred Heart, now at the church convent, and successfully passed the exams preparing them for first Holy Communion.

The Sisters are also in charge of the attire to be worn on that day, the little girls in white with veils, and the boys in appropriate suits.

'Good Citizenship' Father's Day Theme

HARRISBURG, June 18.—(INS)—Gov. James H. Duff today applauded the theme "good citizenship" selected for the observance of Father's Day Sunday.

"Good citizenship certainly begins at home," he said. "And fathers and mothers share a tremendous responsibility in preparing our youngsters for the duties and obligations which each of us must assume in this, the greatest form of government on earth."

Orphans Home At Zelienople Plans Annual Visiting Day

ZELIENOPLE, June 18.—Orphans home and farm school of Zelienople will hold its annual visiting and donation day at the school on Thursday, June 24. This home is the oldest Protestant home in the United States and was founded in 1854 by Dr. W. A. Passavant, who also founded several other institutions.

An all day outing has been planned, with a program at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon. Principal speaker will be Dr. Edgar B. Hanks, president of the board of directors. Music will be provided by a local band, children of the home, and by Miss Esther Edmundson, vocalist.

A number of Lutheran churches in the Beaver Valley are assisting with the program and food for the day. Last year a total of 2100 persons attended the program and ate lunch on the grounds. A large crowd is anticipated again this year.

EXCUSE NO GOOD

Greater Aid For Child Welfare In State Recommended

HARRISBURG, June 18.—(INS)—Greater state financial aid for centralized child welfare program was recommended today by Philadelphia Municipal Judge Nochem S. Winnet.

During a meeting of the Public Charities Association and local civic leaders at Harrisburg, he suggested the state help counties establish welfare agencies to aid neglected and dependent children. "Children placed for adoption should be placed through a department of welfare or a duly-licensed agency to obviate the many tragedies of private and indiscriminate taking and placing of children," he asserted.

Other services should be centralized in the opinion of spokesmen for the association.

No Unemployment Compensation For Strikers, Decision*Decision Given By District Office; Some Employees May Be Eligible

George R. Gettings, manager of the Pennsylvania State Employment Service, has been instructed that workers engaged in the work stoppage at the New Castle Plant of the United Engineering and Foundry Company are ineligible for Unemployment Compensation benefits. This decision was given out by Carmen B. Smith, Employment Service manager of District No. 11, Rochester.

This stoppage of work is declared to be due to a labor dispute within the meaning of Section 402 (d) of the Pennsylvania Unemployment Compensation Law.

It is ruled that the following class of employees who were working for this employer at the time of the strike are, for the reasons stated, ineligible for compensation for the duration of the strike:

1. Hourly paid workers, affiliated with Local Lodge No. 1671 of the International Association of Machinists, because the workers of this organization are participating in the labor dispute.

2. Hourly paid workers, affiliated with Local No. 398 of the International Molders' and Foundry Workers' Union of North America, because the workers of this organization are participating in the labor dispute.

3. Hourly paid workers, affiliated with the Patternmakers' League of North America, Pittsburgh Association, because the workers of this organization are participating in the labor dispute.

4. Other hourly paid workers not members of any labor organization, or have affiliated themselves with another labor organization, because they belong to the same class of workers who are affiliated with Lodge No. 1671 of the International Association of Machinists.

Other employees, if otherwise eligible, are not disqualified because of work stoppage.

Work is progressing today on the Savannah road with workmen proceeding toward the Ellwood road on Route 37038. Following that, they will be working on the Old Pittsburgh road going toward Willow Brook on the Butler road.

Due to the heavy drag that is being used in the operations, the roads are closed to traffic for 48 hours following the work to give the materials used time to set.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

COMING UP June 23, is the second Joe Louis-Jersey Joe Walcott fight, which recalls that Jersey Joe made a brilliant showing against Louis, not because Jersey Joe was so good, but because Detroit Joe was so bad. The decision to Louis did not set well with partisans of Jersey Joe, while the Louis clan based the justness for the decision on his aggressiveness. There is small doubt that, had Jersey Joe continued to fight in the last few rounds, as he did the forepart of the fight, he would have received the decision. Some have gained the impression that Joe Louis did not think much of Walcott's ability, and laid down in training, believing that Jersey Joe would prove a push-over, which turned out differently, than probably anticipated. Jersey Joe's style baffled Louis and Detroit Joe picked himself up from the floor several times. Being filled with pride and greatly chagrined over his sorry showing in the first fight, Louis probably has worked himself into real condition. He is younger than Jersey Joe, but has lived a softer life. This latter phase may have something to do with his conditioning. He may have had to train harder to fit himself, than did Jersey Joe. Louis, like his late trainer, Jack Blackburn, never has been able to get away from a right hand punch. On the other hand, he has always done better against an opponent in the second fight, which is explained by the Pastor battles, the Schmeling affairs and the Conn battles. No doubt, Louis will attempt to stage another attack similar to that employed against Max Schmeling when der German was flattened, yes literally torn to pieces, in one round. This is the kind of attack Jersey Joe must guard against, and prevent, in order to go the route and win.

(Sixteenth in a series spotlighting former Olympic champions and their deeds.) . . . In a struggle that started in the daylight and ended in the floodlights five hours and five minutes later, Earl Meadows of the University of Southern California won the pole vault title in the 1936 Olympics in Berlin, cracking the former mark set by a fellow-American, Bill Miller, in the 1932 games. It was a battle between Meadows, his USC teammate, Bill Sefton, and two Japs, Shuhei Nishida and Sueso Oe. To add to the closeness of the event, 11 vaulters tied for sixth place and had to decide that next day. After winning the event at 14 feet 3 1/4 inches, Meadows tried to negotiate 14 feet 6 3/4 inches but he failed. In the jumpoff for second, Nishida and Oe tied at 13 feet 11 inches but both, declined to jump off for the silver and bronze medals. Sefton had tied them but lost out in the jumpoff, according to Walter L. Johns, Central Press Sports Editor.

STATE TO SPEND $800,000 IN '48 ON FISHING SPORT

PITTSBURGH, June 18.—(INS).—The Pennsylvania state fish commission said today it expects to spend more than $800,000 this year for hatching, propagation and distribution of fish in Pennsylvania. Already there are at least 1 1/2 million trout stocked in streams, creeks, lakes and rivers.

The commission said there were 620,207 stocked bass last year, and this year it expects to "go very much above that".

There also were 80,572 resident fishermen last year, and at least that many so far in 1948. The commission expects approximately 700,000 resident fishermen by the end of the trout season. The non-resident and tourist fishermen numbered 19,000 last year, and are expected to go much above that figure this year.

PITT MAY DROP BUCKS PITTSBURGH, June 18.—(INS).—

The possibility that the Ohio State-University of Pittsburgh football rivalry might end after the 1949 season arose today.

As if the Pitt Athletic department didn't already have enough troubles—what with its search for an athletic director to replace the designed James Hagan—Ohio State officials said "previous commitments" probably would put a stop to the series.

The contest with the Buckeyes has been one of the most lucrative on the Panther schedule.

The Cincinnati Reds have returned Pitcher Kenneth Holcombe to the Sacramento club of the Pacific Coast league from which he was drafted last fall.

Championship schoolboy tournaments attracted nearly 1,000 Pennsylvania athletes to the Penn State campus during the last year.

Penn State's all-American guard Steve Suhey, will play for the Pittsburgh Steelers of the National Football league in 1948.

350 Athletes Vie In NCAA Pairings

MINNEAPOLIS, June 18.—(INS).—A record 350 athletes from 97 colleges and universities set out in the 27th NCAA track and field games today, properly spurred by visions of the London Olympiad.

The preliminaries today probably will be accompanied by occasional showers in the finals tomorrow, the six joint winners in each event automatically qualify for the final Olympic trials, to be held in Evanston, Ill., July 9 and 10.

This, then, is the first of two semi-final tournaments in the U. S. Olympic plan. The other will be the National AAU affair at Milwaukee two weeks hence.

Harrison Dillard, the great hurdler from Baldwin-Wallace, and Bob Likens, the San Jose State javelin man, both defending NCAA champs, will have to do their qualifying at Milwaukee, since both are barred from the NCAA meet for having used up their collegiate eligibility.

LOCKE LEADING

CHICAGO, June 18.—(INS).—Bobby Locke, South Africa's gift to golf, was blasting along at a field-leading, record-breaking pace today as second-round play began in the sixth annual Chicago victory open at Midlothian Country club.

Locke was over par once during yesterday's first round, and to counteract this lapse he produced no less than seven birdies for a course record 65, six under par and one stroke up on the previous Midlothian mark of 66.

Penn State's spring sports teams batted a robust .739 during the 1948 season. Lion baseball, golf, track, tennis and lacrosse teams won 34 of 46 matches played.

MORE PILOTS MAKE RATINGS AT AIRPORT

Howard Barge of 126 Quest street was reported today as having made a solo hop from the New Castle Airport while solo cross-country flights were made by Donald Eugene Hawk of 311 Sycamore street, and Benjamin Jones, Rainey avenue, who flew to Erie, Pittsburgh and return.

The pilots are students of the Penn Aero Service flying school. Barney Ewell, former Penn State sprint star, soon will launch a determined drive for a place on the U. S. Olympic team.

SPEEDED HYPNOSIS
HOLLYWOOD. (INS)—The process of hypnosis has been speeded with an instrument designed by Dr. Bernard C. Gindes of Los Angeles. The mechanism, called a hypnoscope, resembles an old fashioned motion picture camera mounted on a tripod. Its features are a 40-watt light bulb, a powerful lens and filters of various colors. The doctor claims that the instrument can bring a subject under a hypnotic spell within 45 seconds.
In 1787, when he was 17 years old, the composer, Ludwig van Beethoven, visited Vienna, when Gluck, Händel and Mozart were living there. Mozart, after hearing Beethoven's brilliant improvisations, said "Keep your eyes on him; some day he will make a stir in the world."

Market Fails To Benefit By Rally
Started Thursday, Trading At Million And Half Shares
NEW YORK, June 18.—(INS)—Stocks on the New York Stock Market continued mixed and slightly easier today, failing to benefit by the rally which set in late yesterday.
Trading was at the 1 1/2 million share level.
Stocks of two companies involved in yesterday's air tragedy suffered in the early trading. Douglas Aircraft dropped 1 1/2 on the first sale but came back almost all the way. United Airlines lost a point and later recovered half of it.
Rail shares were only slightly better than even. Motors and steels were weak.
Plymouth Oil shot up 3 1/2 points in an otherwise lower oil section.
Bonds and curb stocks were heavy. Cotton fell a few cents a bale.
